About Udaipur

Udaipur, famously known as the City of Lakes, is one of the most popular tourist destinations in Rajasthan and the second most visited city in the region.

Surrounded by the Aravalli Hills, it boasts scenic lakes, marble palaces, beautiful gardens, and a rich royal heritage that makes it look almost like a mirage.

Once the capital of the Mewar kingdom, Udaipur is renowned for its Rajput-era palaces, cultural legacy, and stunning monuments. Highlights include Lake Pichola, the iconic Lake Palace, the grand City Palace, and the serene Fateh Sagar Lake. The city is also home to historic sites like Jagdish Temple, Saheliyon Ki Bari, and the Monsoon Palace.

Udaipur offers more than beauty—it is a cultural haven filled with folk music, traditional dance, local art, and vibrant festivals like Mewar Festival and Shilpgram Utsav. With its timeless charm and royal ambiance, Udaipur is a perfect blend of history, nature, and culture.
